Winter's Grasp.....

Winter is still hanging on and the occasional pleasant day is just a teaser about the warmer days to come. I am hoping for a spring flood!

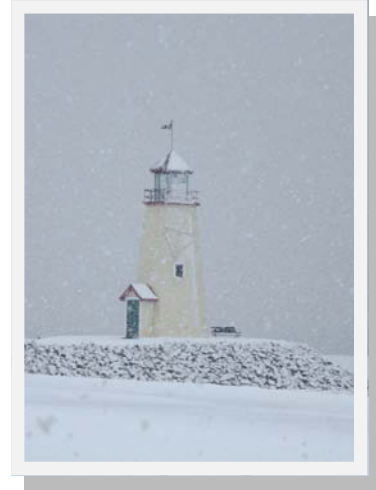

With the dropping water levels, a number of boats have been pulled and a number in shallow slips have already been strapped up. The owners with the shallow draft boats who are still trying to pull their boats are having a really difficult time on the deep ramp and the other ramps are too shallow.

The water level held steady a few days last week and I was hoping the trend would continue. Sorry, that is not the case.

To my knowledge, the slip fee change is not yet set. We are waiting for the city officials to set a meeting date.

St. Patrick's day is rapidly approaching. We need to decide how we want to celebrate this. This Thursday evening will be our regular meeting in Keel Hall at 7:00. Hope to see everyone there.
